ges in the weather at this sea

R. W. Davison says:—First re-move all causes of colds, such as cracks, overhead ventilators, damp-ness, etc. When fowls are first affected add spongia to the drinking water, say 25 to 40 drops of the tincture to a pailful.

Dr. Woods gives the following remedy:—Tincture of aconite, ten drops: tincture of spongia, ten drops: alcohol enough to make one ounce. Put a teaspoontul of this in a quart of drinking water daily. Should the head swell, and cheesy matter form in the roof of the mouth take a quart can and fill it with kerosene oil, take the bird by the feet and neck and plunge the head in the oil; hold it there a moment and withdraw; immediately wi the head dry to prevent feathe from falling out.

A. F. Hunter, editor of Farm Poultry recommends the following: -A tablespoonful of clear lard, half a teaspoonful each of ginger. cayenne pepper and mustard;make into pill size of top joint of little finger and administer, repeating proprietor of Bellevue Poultry Farm finger and administer, repeating at Memphis assured us that he is dose in twelve or twenty-four hours as case requires.

> teaspoonful of chloride of lime in a pint of water and give the bird a teaspoonful of the solution. Burn tar and turpentine in the house af ter the fowls have gone to roost.

W. D. Elwell, in Reliable Poul try Journal, says the following rem edy has proven very effective in over one hundred cases curing every one: Cider vinegar, one pint; baking soda. one teaspoonful, table salt one teaspoonful. Take the afbut fected bird by the wind pipe, hold the wings and legs securely with the other and dip the head well into the solution. Hold it there as long as you can without choking the fowl, dip about three times; re-peat the operation night and morn-ing and two or three days will effect cure.

In aggravated cases the hatchet best remedy. Southern Fancier.

They Make Big Money. Make It Easy. No Capital Invested. How They Do It.

There are several thousand bovs and hundreds of men engaged in St. Louis in a business which brings a weekly profit of from $$.000 to 10:000. It's the relling of daily papers. Hundreds of families live comfortably our the profit of the sale of daily news papers.

In Sr. Louis the favorite newspaper with the boys is the POST-DISPATCH, because it sells best. An investigation has shown that the boys sell more copies of the daily POSTDISPATCH than the combined sales of the two other English evening pa rers.

One of the pleasures the boys find

The editor of the American Fancier has received a letter from Secy cier has received a retter Treas. Major Theodore Sternberg who is now station with the U. S. Army at Manila, from which he quotes some points of interest poultrymen. The Major writes: "I was ten days in the harbor of Honolulu and was frequently on shore. Of course I saw every chicken in sight. At Honolulu I saw Minorcas, Polish, Leghorns, and Light Brahmas evidently im-portations from the United States. These were sorry looking fowls, evdently degenerated, and the same can be said of the common domestic fowl. One thing caught my atten-tion in regard to Light Brahmas, that is, their close hard feathering. So far as Honolulu is concerned chickens are at a low ebb. I have so far had little opportunity of studying the fowls in the Philippines, but hope to be able to do so. We can not go into the interior as yet. The insurgent lines are all ret. The insurgent lines are an round Manila close to the city, and we are not allowed to pass these lines. Manila is full of fowls that seem to flourish. All are Game towls, the common fowls being of towis, the common fowls being of that race. They seem to be very hardy. These common fowls are of all colors and the cocks are handsome fellows, the heas being like the Pit Game heas of our own course for the color and shape. General Merritt Took Three Wit's Chapter of Amusing Stories of the "Good Men and True."

Although juries in their collective apacity seem to be the embodiment Although juries as a capacity seem to be the embodiment of common sense, taken individually they frequently behave in the strangest manner. The writer remembers a case in which the judge when he came to sum up noticed that one of the juriors was missing.

be diagnosed at three o'clock to-day by a celebrated specialist. Fearing you would not give him permission, he left the box soon after the court resumed, leaving his verdict with me."

The judge fell back on hearing this,
and it was quite a minute before he recovered his speech. The counsel, of course, wastd very merry; they had no reason for anger, as the adjournment of the case, of course, meant more fees. The judge next morning fined the absentee £20, which he could very well afford to pay, as he

He flung himself into his work. Nights he studied and the days were passed in the fevered activity of those carly times in California. Money was plenty. The chances were many, and Rudolph made money both in the positive way and in the negative, as he neither drank whisky nor played for high stakes. His business absorbed him in spite of himself.

But no sooner had he realized enough to feel himself a self-supporting American institution than his thoughts went back to little Laura in the distant atherland, yet his efforts were in vain to establish any communication. At last he ventured to apply to the police, and received news that Laura's father had been arrested, his property taken, and he arrested, his property taken, and he

Feb. 22.—The offerings this week were the largest of the year. The quality was also the best that has appeared. Bidding was brisk and good prices were realized by the shippers. Warehousemen and buyers also well satisfied with the week's business at the houses. Highest right by week was $12 for Highest price this week was $12 for common to medium black wrapper from Robertson, Tenn. There is a good demand for all good useful togood demand for all good useful to-bacco from medium lugs to fine wrapper. The Regie buyers and other buyers were free bidders when anything appeared suitable for their several wants. The demands are coming in for black wrappers at very satisfactory prices say from $12 to $16. The rejections were comparatively light under the most rigid inspection that ever was known in Hopkinsville. Therefore the patrons of this mar-ket need not have any fears this year but what they will get value received of all purchases made on the breaks. Whereas last year all markets had more or less complaints from the home and foreign patrons The whole cause of the trouble of it was the high prices paid in the country by the leaf dealers and the very low price it declined to and the greatest trouble of all was the 1897 crop was the meanest crop ever raised or marketed.
